

If you are a high school junior, you could be a winner of the Rural Electric Cooperative Youth Tour. It's free, it's exciting and it's fun!

Free

The trip begins with a "Get Acquainted Banquet" in Oklahoma City, where everyone meets, makes new acquaintances and has an evening of fun and fellowship. After arriving in Washington, D.C., the tour of our nation's capitol includes days filled with sightseeing, a riverboat trip on the Potomac and meet with Oklahoma's Congressional delegation.

Fun

How do you qualify for this unique experience? Simple...

Exciting

Youth Tour winners are selected by rural electric cooperatives from contestants who either prepare a talk, take a test or write an essay on some phase of rural electrification.

Your local cooperative will furnish the specific requirements, rules and information. In addition, all of the necessary materials will be made available to you upon request. Impartial judges will grade the contestants on their subject knowledge, originality, composition, neatness and grammar.
